

BIO:

I have recently retired from teaching, a career I enjoyed for many years. I taught in Secondary education having taught students from 11- 18 years. During my career I also worked as an Advisory teacher supporting and training staff in all the Secondary schools in the Borough where I worked. In school I had responsibility for training students training to be teachers, and the staff in our school who were newly qualified.

I continue to do Voluntary work with young people.

Paula Violet